

WALL ST. STOCK REPORTS.

Bull Traders Hold Carnival in the Share Market.

Prices Pushed Up One to Three Points All Along the List.

Bank Statement Shows Loss of $1,300,000 in Reserve—The Quotations.

There was a tremendous bull speculation at the Stock Exchange this morning—the largest in years. The outsider took the bit in his teeth and fairly ran away with the professional. London, Chicago, Philadelphia, St. Louis, Boston, and, in fact, every leading city had orders in the market to buy stocks at an early hour, and they were duplicated over and over again up to the very close of business.

The foreigners, who have made a barrel of money in wheat, have been buying stocks for a week. To-day they were frantic, and according to Associated Press advice, the excitement in London in the American department.

Room traders and other operators who were actually forced into buying stocks during the past week, sold heavily, but their efforts were fruitless, because they stood in abomination and finally quit.

The movement of grain into Chicago to-day was given as 2,000 carloads.

Gain in wheat futures from 1,600 points, the standard stocks as well as the specialties participating in the rise. The closing was 1,600.

Sales at the New York Stock Exchange were 256,264 shares of listed stocks and 82,000 units of silver.

The daily statement showed a decrease in surplus reserves of $1,341,976. This is much smaller than was generally expected.

The banks had $14,110,300 in excess of the 25 per cent. legal requirement, whereas, at the same time last year there were $50,070 below the limit.

The following are the comparative figures:

Losses, $22,000,000 $29,000,000 Changes.

Spent, $65,385,000 $65,496,000 Dec. 2, 1888, 100.

Surplus, $51,452,300 $51,121,900 Jan. 1, 1889, 100.

Surplus, $1,341,976 $1,341,976 Jan. 1, 1889, 100.

Circum., $1,600,000 $1,600,000 Dec. 2, 1888, 100.

Gain, $1,600,000 $1,600,000 Jan. 1, 1889, 100.

Rumors About Union Pacific.

A despatch from Chicago was received here to-day, stating that Jay Gould has virtually relinquished control of Union Pacific and that a majority of the stock has been placed in the hands of Drexel, Morgan & Co.

It was also stated that Sidney Dillon would resign the Presidency, and that the Vandembilt-Morgan interest would elect the new man, they having control of the stock.

The report was not believed in Wall street.

Closing Quotations.

The Decisive Battle in Which His Forces Were Utterly Rout.

Despatches from Valparaiso, Chile, received this morning announced that President Balmaceda's forces had been defeated by the revolutionists, and that Balmaceda himself was practically a fugitive.

The decisive battle occurred yesterday and resulted after five hours' hard fighting. In the scattering of Balmaceda's army, beyond all hope of reorganization and in the revolutionists—the Congressionalists—taking possession of Valparaiso.

There has been a constant series of manoeuvres for position ever since the arrival of the Congressional Army at Vina del Mar. In nearly all of these the revolutionists have had the better of it.

The revolutionists, Gen. Cano's position was held in a house above the race track at Vina del Mar, and he had absolute control of the railroad to Santiago and commanding the ordinary roads. Santiago was practically in a state of siege.

In the meantime, Gen. Balmaceda, the vice-president, had been captured at the fortresses, the troops he had been with having advanced on the enemy under cover of a heavy fire from their batteries.

The revolutionists opened a destructive fire with their machine rifles, using smoke-bomb cartridges. The Government troops advanced steadily and canister and rifle bullets tore through their ranks until it became too hot, and they broke and ran in a panic.

The officers, fully aware of the situation, reformed the ranks and started on a double-quick for another attack. Gen. Barrosa was shot dead at the first charge, and the rest wavered for an instant, except Gen. Arce, who fell from his horse, wounded to death.

The retreat became a rout, the rout a panic, and the revolutionists won the day.

Fighting lasted a little less than five hours, but fully 5,000 men were killed and 1,000 wounded.

The woman proved to be Miss Myrtle Avenue, the wife of George W. Cowperthwait, who was told that Mr. Thorne, the managing director, had been missing since Thursday afternoon.

They went to Coney Island together. Their friends said they had been drawn into the scheme of a woman in the street.

Miss Thornton had been visiting the Sam'l Farnport, L. I., and on Thursday last Thornton invited Miss Jewell to go with him to the hotel. They dined at the "Cumberland" restaurant at 2 o'clock, and remained to Brooklyn to the Culver route.

Thornton and Miss Jewell, who had been staying at the Culver route, had planned to go to Coney Island to stay to-morrow.
